Kristin Anderson, a first-year member from Centennial, Colorado, is graduating magna cum laude with a degree in Vocal Music Education. She is currently finishing her student teaching at North Trail Elementary in Farmington, Minnesota and Red Wing High School in Red Wing, Minnesota. For next year, Kristin is hoping to get a music education job at any level, K-12, close to the twin cities. She has truly enjoyed being at St. Olaf, where she was the librarian of Cantorei, directed a handbell choir, completed a project for departmental distinction, took part in Relay For Life, and met her fiancée, Paul Johnson. They will be married in June of 2010.

Ben Baker feels incredibly lucky to have spent such a wonderful and eventful year singing in the St. Olaf Choir. A music and math major from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Ben's other musical endeavors have included singing with the Viking Chorus and Chapel Choir, playing the piano in the St. Olaf jazz bands and in a student-led jazz combo, and happily accompanying far too many student juries and recitals. He especially enjoyed having the chance to serve as an accompanist for the choir this year. During his time at St. Olaf, Ben also participated in the Great Conversation, traveled abroad on the Global Semester, and managed to fool people into thinking he can swing dance. Next year, he plans to attend New York University to pursue a Master of Music degree in Jazz Studies.

Sarah Bassett is a music major from Naperville, Illinois. In the fall, she will complete her student teaching semester at Minneapolis South High School to earn her communication arts and literature teaching license. At St. Olaf, she also managed and performed with Agnes, the women's a cappella ensemble on campus. Sarah is a little nervous about what the future may hold for her after she finishes student teaching in December, but finds strength in the love from family and friends. She could not have done any of this without them, and will sing for them always.

Elizabeth Bogges is an Art History major from Medford, Oregon. She has spent two of four amazing years at St. Olaf in the choir, as well as fixing books in the library, doing technical work in the Dance Department, studying abroad for an Interim, and being a JC. After a summer of a bit of travel and (hopefully) work, Elie will be moving to sunny Los Angeles, where dreams come true. She looks forward to new experiences in art, music, and life, and would like to thank her family, friends, and boyfriend for all their love and support.

John Borton is a music major from Okemos, Michigan. A three-year member of the St. Olaf Choir, John has served as Bass Section Leader for the past two years. After graduating from St. Olaf, John plans to return to Michigan for the summer. After that, he hopes the job market will work in his favor, and is considering going to graduate school for music therapy. While uncertain about the future, John knows music will always play an important role in his life. He would like to thank his friends and family for their loving support.

Laura Camp, from Pennington, NJ, is a vocal music education major who is also pursuing a license to teach English as a Second Language. A two-year member of the choir, she has also been a member of numerous other musical ensembles, including Cantorei, Philharmonia, and Jazz I. Other favorite activities of hers include working as a student recording engineer for Broadcast Media, playing the Devil's Advocate in most of her classes, and building paper boats to race in the many large puddles that appear on campus in spring. After graduation, Laura will be student teaching in the Twin Cities.

Travis Chantar is a two-year member of the St. Olaf Choir from Pocatello, Idaho and a vocal performance major. During his time at St. Olaf, he has participated in Theater, Viking Chorus, Chapel Choir, NATS, GLOW, SSS, facebook, and worked as a freelance artist/graphic designer/photographer/photoshopper. After his first venture out of the country on the British Isles choir tour, he hopes to return to the Twin Cities area, find any job available, and enjoy the terrifying real world to the best of his ability. He is grateful for the second family gained through his time at St. Olaf and wouldn't trade his experience there for the world.

Catherine Collins is a vocal music education major from Shorewood, Wisconsin. She has recently finished student teaching in Owatonna, Minnesota, and she hopes to be teaching in her very own classroom this fall. Shortly after returning from international tour, where she may finally be able to put her Irish step dancing skills to use, Catherine will make her way out to Princeton, New Jersey, to work as a counselor at Camp Albemarle. She is incredibly grateful that she had the opportunity to participate in such an amazing ensemble, and she is honored that she was given the chance to serve the choir as the Alto section leader this past year. Choir has provided her with many wonderful memories, and even better friends.

Elyse Fenstemacher can't think of a better way to celebrate leaving St. Olaf than to go on choir tour with all of these wonderful people in a foreign country. After the joys of the UK Elyse is looking forward to put her Art History skills to good use doing internships in very resonant, singing-friendly art museums before hitting up grad school for some more learning. The past three years with this group have taught her more than she would have dreamed was possible and she is grateful to have been a member of such a loving choir!

Tom Frank is a film studies major from Edina, Minnesota. A third year member of the choir, Tom was fortunate enough to serve as the choir president this year. He will be living in the twin cities next year and plans to go to film school after a few years. Tom feels truly blessed to have been a part of this organization for these last few years and has been proud to make the most out of the opportunities it has presented him.

Elwyn Alexander Fraser Junior has learned how God is the glue that holds his life together and the light that permeates his being. In testament to 1st Corinthians 13, God has most powerfully worked through Elwyn's friends and professionals here at St. Olaf College to foster in Elwyn a chance for a future brighter than he had ever thought possible. For this, he is eternally grateful. Elwyn has embraced many opportunities at St. Olaf College. Despite being a physics major, he's taken many music and Asian Studies courses. Through technology, dance, and voice he's been a part of various student organizations, performance groups, and academic departments here at St. Olaf College. Elwyn is engaged to an enchanting being, Nicole Marie Marvin. They plan to be married in about a year as God's plans unfold. Elwyn is currently pursuing the MN Opera Company, the Vocal Essence Ensemble Singers, a MN Christian ministry break-dancing crew, web-design, Linux system operations, and physics related Research Assistantships. In years to come, Elwyn will consider graduate work in physics and voice as well. Elwyn is a 3-year baritone St. Olaf Choir member. For Elwyn, the St. Olaf Choir has been a community of familial synergy unlike any other community he's encountered.

Sydney Freedman is a three-year choir member from Scottsdale, Arizona. She completed majors in music history and medieval studies, and two months after the British Isles tour, she will return to Ireland for the master's degree program in chant studies at the University of Limerick. In the meantime, she will teach for a third summer at the Foundation for Blind Children in her home town and spend time with friends and family.

Daniel Greco digs music. He also digs theater. Although he's graduating with a BM in Vocal Performance he also considers himself a wanna-be theater major of sorts. Favorite productions include Pippin, 5 to 9, Goodbyes: A Musical Revue, and Urinetown. He has enjoyed a year in Chapel Choir and two in Ole Choir. Favorite moments in the music department include the entirety of Barber's "Prayers of Kierkegaard", The Oslo Kammerkor concert, my first benediction, the rest of the benedictions, the Whitacre concert, listening to the Tchaik finale of the senior soloist concert, the Hella concert, improv with Ben, performing with pappa in my last set, spontaneous singing at the pool in TN, singing with Bare Jazz, studying for Avenue Q I mean Music History with Jimmy. Thank You to any and all who made any of those happen. God Bless!

Kira Haler is a music major from New Ulm, Minnesota. She is a three-year member of the St. Olaf Choir and was fortunate enough during her senior year to serve as Soprano Section Leader and Vice President. She has especially enjoyed her time at St. Olaf working with the Manitou Singers as accompanist and student conductor. Kira has been admitted to the master's degree program in Choral Conducting at the University of Colorado-Boulder where she will begin her studies in the fall. While she hopes to find a fun summer job after graduating from St. Olaf, Kira is convinced no one will hire her for the six weeks she has free between her return from the St. Olaf Choir's international tour and her wedding in August.

Heidi Hartwig, a white African from Arusha, Tanzania, has thoroughly embraced making the St. Olaf Choir her family for three years and was honored to serve as the choir's chaplain this year. While she has loved and learned so much from being in the company of some brilliant music majors each day, she has also found so much joy in her own majors, Studio Art and Biology. Heidi plans to spend the next two years teaching Biology in Slovakia with ELCA or doing health work somewhere in Asia with the Peace Corps. After that, she hopes that medical schools in the U.S. will be at least as excited about her as she will surely be about them so that she can pursue her dream and calling to serve as a medical missionary in East Africa or some alternative undisclosed location in the wide wide world.

Virginia Hicks, a three-year choir member, is a vocal performance major from Madison, New Jersey. Next year, she is very excited to be teaching English through music to children in Busan, Korea. After moving back to the States, she hopes to go to graduate school for either Choral Conducting or Music Therapy. Her favorite memories of choir over the past 3 years are singing Peer Gynt with the Minnesota Orchestra, meeting Eric Whitacre, and our concert at Emory University. She is greatly looking forward to the upcoming British Isles tour.

Susan Hill, a two-year St. Olaf Choir member from Rock Island, IL, is graduating with majors in Music and Sociology/Anthropology. During her time at St. Olaf, she has been an active pianist and singer, performing in over 12 recitals on piano this year and four as a solo vocalist. This summer's British Isles tour will be her third tour this year with a St. Olaf ensemble, including the St. Olaf Choir's tour of the southeastern United States in January and the St. Olaf Piano Tour to Texas in the fall. During her time at St. Olaf, she has also been active outside of the music department, conducting sociological research, tutoring Latin, and gaining membership to Phi Beta Kappa honor society. Next September, she will move to Budapest, Hungary to study social anthropology at Central European University as a Rotary International Foundation Ambassadorial Scholar. She will greatly miss the combination of good times, great friendship, and high musical achievement that the St. Olaf Choir experience has afforded her.

Kate Huebner has enjoyed singing in the St. Olaf Choir for the past three years. She will graduate with a major in Norwegian and a concentration in Management Studies. In addition to singing in choir, Kate enjoyed participating in a wide variety of activities throughout her four years on the Hill including The Great Conversation, adult ESL tutoring for Volunteer Network, and studying abroad in Oslo, Norway. After returning from the British Isles tour, she plans to move back to her native state of Nebraska and spend the next year working and applying to optometry school. She is excited for the future ahead, but will sorely miss living in Minnesota and her friends in Ole choir!

Paul Hiram Johnson is graduating with a Bachelor of Music degree in music education from St. Olaf College, and is a three-year member of the Bass section in the St. Olaf Choir. Paul grew up in Chatfield, Minnesota where he has been surrounded with a wonderful, loving family. His time here at St. Olaf has been a dream come true in many ways, as he has met his future wife Kristin Anderson who also sings in the St. Olaf Choir. Paul has also enjoyed his time in the Limestones a capella group on campus, as well as many solo opportunities in recitals and operas. Paul will be singing the leading role of Figaro in Le Nozze di Figaro this summer for the University of Minnesota-Duluth's graduate school opera program.

Stephanie Larson, a first-year member from Plano, Texas, is graduating with a double major in music and biology with a concentration in biomedical studies. Along with singing in choir, she has served as the president of St. Olaf's service fraternity Alpha Phi Omega. Her other St. Olaf activities have included piano lessons, St. Olaf Band, and Cantorei. Stephanie is currently applying to masters of science programs, and hopes to go to medical school in the future. She has really enjoyed her time at St. Olaf, and will miss being on the hill very much. Being in choir this year has fulfilled a childhood dream, and she has loved every minute of it.

After completing a fun-filled semester of student teaching, Martina Link will graduate with a Bachelors of Music degree in Vocal Music Education. In celebration, Martina plans to stay an additional few weeks to backpack Europe after St. Olaf Choir's International Tour! In the fall she will be returning to her home state of Colorado and will attend the University of Denver for masters degrees in Vocal Performance and Choral Conducting. She would like to thank her family, fellow music education majors, and professors at St. Olaf for all of their support and encouragement!

A music major from Fairview, Oregon, Eric Little has been a member of Ole Choir for three years. The experience has been too incredible for words and he couldn't feel luckier, getting to go on international tour with this amazing group of people. This year he was secretary/treasurer and tenor section leader, and he is so happy to have gotten to work with such a wonderful section. Along with choir Eric was also involved in the theatre department at St. Olaf, and will greatly miss the faculty and friends he has spent his years with. After choir tour is finished, Eric will be volunteering on organic farms in Norway and France and doing some traveling in Europe this summer with Logan. Eric will be living in the cities for a year starting in the fall to continue studying harpsichord, and then attempt to go to Holland to study. To my family, thank you for always supporting me in everything I do, as I would never have gotten here without you!

Miranda Eve Lubarsky is a Sociology/Anthropology and Music Major from Fairfield, Connecticut. She was the Student Coordinator for the World Issues Dialogue this year, Treasurer of the Jewish Student Organization, and a member of Stitches for Peace. Favorite St. Olaf past-times include strolls down-town, knitting, contra-dancing, spinning, and other shananigans. Miranda has applied for several AmeriCorps Vista positions and hopes to work as a health advocate and/or farm apprentice back home in New England. After some time in "the real world" (whatever that is) she will go back to school for Anthropology.

A.J. Lund, a second-year choir member and native of Mapleton, Illinois (near Peoria), will graduate with a B.M. degree in vocal music education. During his time at St. Olaf, AJ was involved with Viking Chorus, Cantorei, and various theater productions on campus, as well as leadership positions with the student chapter of the American Choral Director's Association and as world music director for the campus radio station, KSTO 93.1 FM. AJ currently plans to take a teaching position near either Minneapolis or Chicago, hopefully in a high school, and to open a private voice studio and continue performing in any way possible.

Katie Parent is a first-year member from Mats Mats Bay, Washington. She is a triple major in Political Science, Studio Art and Norwegian. At St. Olaf she greatly enjoyed a diverse array of classes (including the Great Conversation program) and spent a summer as a Foreign Service intern in Norway. Katie is an alternate for a Fulbright Scholarship and hopes to spend next year at Misjonshøgskolen i Stavanger, Norway, studying Christian mission and development aid. She enjoys puppetry, illustration, and all forms of storytelling.

Tara Ritter is a two year member of the choir graduating with a major in Environmental Studies. She appreciates the quality time she got to spend at St. Olaf where she participated in dance and choir, worked for Residence Life and the library, and met so many incredible people who she is sad to be leaving. While she has no solidified plans for this summer or fall, next spring she will travel to Australia to study marine biology and ecology. After that, she has no idea what the future holds other than that it includes a warm climate, lots of time outdoors, and plenty of adventures with good friends and family.

Jason Smith is graduating from St. Olaf with majors in philosophy and religion and a concentration in linguistic studies. Originally from Hastings, Minnesota, he is thrilled to have spent the last four years in Northfield with all of the wonderful people at St. Olaf, and is exceptionally excited to leave for London tomorrow. This summer, he will be interning at Harvard Divinity School, pursuing research on religious diversity in the Boston area. Over the course of the next year, he hopes to find a job, some affordable housing, and time to travel, while also learning how to cook and reading voraciously. Ultimately, he hopes to pursue a Ph.D. in religious studies and perhaps end up teaching at a small, liberal arts college in rural Minnesota. You know, like Carleton.

Sarah Strasen is a two-year choir member graduating with a major in English. She feels lucky to have participated in both choral and orchestral ensembles alongside such talented musicians and humbling people, and she will greatly miss her involvement in the music department at St. Olaf. She looks forward to living in the Twin Cities, maintaining her friendships, living spontaneously, and finding a job with benefits (if you have such a job and would like a copy of her resume, look for her after the concert). She would like to thank everyone who has loved and supported her over the last four years.

Derek Trayling hails from Elgin, Illinois. To pay for this increasingly expensive college, he enlisted in the US Army in July of 2001. He is currently finishing a BM Vocal Performance degree here and, after finishing a couple more required classes, can leave the Hill. His hopes and dreams include studying Voice Performance at UT at Austin, Choral Conducting at FSU, and a lifetime of composing choral music and singing.

A first-year member of the choir from Lawton, Oklahoma, Amanda Underwood is excited for the possibilities life after St. Olaf is sure to bring. She will be graduating cum laude with a B.M. in Vocal Music Education. In addition to her fabulous year in the alto section of the St. Olaf Choir, Amanda has sung in Cantorei, Early Music Singers, and Manitou. She has also been involved in the Lars Skjervheim Spelemannslag (playing Hardanger Fiddle), Company Dance, and several Lyric Theater productions--most recently selected to co-direct this spring's show. Her post-college life will begin with a semester of student teaching in Eagan and Edina, MN. After that, she will bravely face the unknown! Current career paths in consideration include teaching Elementary music, auditioning for Twin-Cities-Area productions, pursuing a masters in Music Therapy or Vocal Performance, or spending a year teaching English in a foreign country. Whatever the path, she is sure to find support in the love of her wonderful family, friends, and boyfriend.

As a third year member of the choir, Sarah van Houten is grateful that she has had so much time to meet and sing with such wonderful people. She is also excited that the tour to the British Isles will extend her time with the choir by two more weeks! Sarah will be graduating with a degree in Psychology that she hopes will be useful in her future educational and career endeavors. Though she hopes to eventually return home to the San Francisco Bay Area, next year she will be living and working in the Cities, adjusting to life after college, and hopefully spending time with her fabulous Olaf friends.

Lauren Vick will be leaving St Olaf with degrees in both Theater and American Studies. A two-year member of the choir, Lauren's other St Olaf activities included the Early Music Singers, and being involved in the theatre department productions. Lauren hopes to one day to direct theater but for now, she plans to live in the cities and take any job that pays. Lauren really looks forward to the tour of the British Isles, and thinks it will be a great way to end a wonderful senior year.

Aurora Vincent, a first-year member hailing from Hawkeye Country, IA, is a psychology major with concentrations in neuroscience and statistics. She has been fortunate enough to participate in such extra-curricular activities as intercollegiate women's soccer, women's rugby, and numerous inter-mural sports teams. Her musical endeavors have included time in Collegiate Women's Chorus, Chapel Choir, the St. Olaf Choir, and the women's a cappella group Agnes. Aurora has been recommended for acceptance to the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences, and she hopes to pursue a military medical career there beginning this summer.

Christopher Windle is Church Music major with Choral Emphasis and is a first-year member of the St. Olaf Choir. While at St. Olaf he has also had the pleasure of performing with the St. Olaf Cantorei and the St. Olaf Band. As an aspiring conductor, he has been the intern conductor this year with the Northfield Youth Choirs' Troubadours, co-directed the St. Olaf Flute Choir, and guest conducted the Valhalla Band. Next year, he hopes to either serve both a congregation and community somewhere in the United States as a Minister of Music, teach music at a private school, or perhaps a combination of both. Either way, he would like to thank all his family and friends for their unwavering support during his time at St. Olaf, despite all the bumps in the road.
