

INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES

Center for Experiential Learning

September 2009

DISCERNMENT AND DEVELOPMENT OF VOCATION

Students will demonstrate . . .

- self-awareness of their values, interests, skills and abilities
- the ability to articulate an understanding of the concept of vocation and its relationship to life options
- the ability to use appropriate knowledge and tools in relation to personal and professional goals
- the ability to integrate vocational direction with their academic and/or experiential learning
- progress toward their vocational goals

ENHANCEMENT OF ACADEMIC PROFICIENCIES

Students will demonstrate . . .

- the ability to apply discipline-based knowledge in experiential learning contexts
- enhanced academic proficiencies through engagement in experiential learning

ENGAGED CITIZENSHIP

Students will demonstrate . . .

- the ability to examine critical community issues from multiple perspectives
- the ability to utilize an ethical framework to critically examine goals and strategies for promoting social change
- the ability to work collaboratively to positively impact issues of community concern
- leadership behaviors in civic engagement activities on campus and in local, national and global communities