Cover Me with the Night

Andrea Ramsey

Peter Hoffmann '23, soloist; Jack Reynertson '20, percussion

Come, Lord and cover me with the night.
Spread your grace over us, when the night is cold and dark.
Your promises are more than the stars in the sky.
Your mercy is deeper than the night.

Come, Lord and cover me with the night.
Lord, we wait for you when the night is cold and dark.
We wait.
Come, Lord!
—Ghanaian prayer

Soldier's Elegy

Michael C. Kregler

I want to go home.
I don't want to go to trenches no more,
Where whizzbangs and shrapnel,
They whistle and roar.

Take me over to the sea
Where the Alleyman can't get at me.
Oh my, I don't want to die.
—Anonymous

Fram Fram St. Olaf!

F. Melius Christiansen (1871-1955)
arr. Christopher Aspaas '95

Kristmenn, Krossmen in mission blessed,
Led by the spirit of truth,
Running the race, pursuing our quest,
Fill'd with the songs of youth.
Founded in faith to render light,
Radiant today it crowns the height,
Rising glorious, and under God, victorious.

Fram! Fram! St. Olaf, impell'd we sing,
Sing to thee.
Fram! Fram! St. Olaf!
The hilltop ring,
Fram! Fram! Free!

Bright Morning Stars

Kentucky Folk Hymn
arr. Jay Althouse

Bright morning stars are rising.
Day is breaking in my soul.
Oh, where are our dear fathers?
They are in the valley praying.
Day is breaking in my soul.
Oh, where are our dear mothers?
They are gone to heaven a-shouting.
Bright morning stars are rising.
Day is breaking in my soul.
—Traditional

Rise My Soul

Traditional Folk Hymn
arr. Susan LaBarr

Rise, my soul, and take thy wings,
Thy better portion trace,
Rise from transitory things
Toward heaven, thy native place.
Sun and moon and stars decay,
Time shall soon this earth remove;
Rise, my soul, and haste away
To seats prepared above.

Rivers to the ocean run,
Nor stay in all their course
Fire ascending seeks the sun,
Both speed them to their source.
So my soul that's born of God
Longs to view his glorious face,
Forward tends to his abode,
To rest in his embrace.

Fly me riches, fly me cares,
Whilst I that coast explore;

Flattering world, with all thy snares,
Solicit me no more.
Pilgrims fix not here their home;
Strangers tarry but a night;
When the last dear morn is come,
They'll rise to joyful light.

Cease, ye pilgrims, cease to mourn,
Press onward to the prize;
Soon our Saviour will return
Triumphant in the skies:
Yet a season and you know
Happy entrance will be given,
All our sorrows left below,
And earth exchanged for heaven.

—Robert Seagrave

“Sicut Erat” from Magnificat

Niccola Popora (1686-1767)

Clara Brown '21, violin
Madeline Miller '20, violin

Sicut erat in principio, et nunc, et semper,
As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be,
et in saecula saeculorum, Amen.

World without end. Amen.

—Lesser Doxology, 3rd-4th century

I Thank You God

Gwyneth Walker

i thank You God for most this amazing day:for the leaping greenly spirits of trees and a blue true dream of sky;and for everything which is natural which is infinite which is yes

(i who have died am alive again today,
and this is the sun's birthday;this is the birth day of life and love and wings:and of the gay great happening illimitably earth)

how should tasting touching hearing seeing breathing any—lifted from the no of all nothing—human merely being doubt unimaginable You?

(now the ears of my ears awake and now the eyes of my eyes are opened)

Psallite

Kyle Pederson

Psallite!
Sing!
Simul cantata.
Sing together.
Una canite,
At the same time,
Simul canite!
Sing praises!
Sing for life, for love, for light;
Sing for friends who stay your side.
Sing for tears, sing for joy,
Sing for hope, sing for home.

Pro luna sole que candido cantata,
Sing for moon and sun that shine,
Canite pro manu et tempore,
Sing for touch and time,
Cantate lacrimis,
Sing for tears,
Cantate risu pro gaudio,
Sing for joy,
Jubilate!
Shout for joy!

Homecoming

Alex Shapiro

Prior to being commissioned to write Homecoming, Alex Shapiro (b.1962) had never once encountered the world of wind band music in her compositional endeavors, or even in concert. Shapiro began exploring music composition at the age of nine. This early exposure led her to pursue study in both composition and electronic music at The Juilliard School and the Manhattan School of Music. Although Homecoming was Shapiro's first venture into the world of wind band music, she went on to produce many other successful band pieces and continues to do so today. The most notable and popular of these pieces, Papercut, was written for wind band, prerecorded electronics, and printer paper.

In June of 2007, Shapiro received a message of inquiry about commissioning a piece that would eventually become Homecoming. This message was from Major Tod A. Addison, commander and conductor of the United States Army Training and Doctrine (TRADOC) Band. The TRADOC Band focuses on fostering soldier and family morale while supporting and spreading the army story. It does so while developing relationships with the American people. The band, which was first organized in 1932, has roots in both the Artillery Corps and in the tradition of training and preparing soldiers for deployment. The musicians in this ensemble devote their lives to the betterment of the American citizens and to providing inspiration through their stories and the music that they create.

Homecoming, which premiered in May 2008, depicts the journey of those providing service for their country from the moment they are deployed to the moment they are reunited with family and loved ones. Shapiro utilizes the human voice and a single lyric, "home," to emphasize how meaningful these reunions are, no matter what circumstances one has come from. Using a combination of jazz, waltz, and post-minimalist writing, Shapiro begins the piece with slow-building tension in the pitched percussion, accompanied by auxiliary key-clicking effects from the band. This tension is representative of the anxiety, doubt, and separation that coincides with deployment. As low reeds and brass begin to enter, anticipation builds until the entrances of the drum set, electronic instruments, and high woodwinds shift the feeling of the piece. This emotional change sparks a sense of joy and promise that is maintained to the end of the piece. The ending and final repetition of the lyric, "home," is accompanied by a smile from the band that affirms the celebration of a triumphant return home.

Silverado

Bruce Broughton

One of the most awarded modern film composers, Bruce Broughton is known for his color melodies and orchestrations that paint a picture and transport an audience. His scores have accompanied everything from video games to rides at Disney parks, and have reached the ears of countless listeners across the world, earning him a spot as a member on influential boards such as the ASCAP and the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. His theme for the 1985 film Silverado evokes all the essential elements of a Western: adventure, romance, and of course, expansive western landscapes.

Silverado has become a staple Western film. Full of nostalgia for the older movies of the genre, the plot follows a group of four cowboys as they are thrown together by fate to save the town of Silverado from a corrupt sheriff and his gang of deputy cronies. Along the way, they meet Stella, the town's clever saloon manager, start a stampede to raid a ranch, and, as per tradition, have a final epic showdown in the heart of town. In the end, the brothers, Emmett and Jake, continue on their journey to California. Mal builds a homestead in Silverado with his sister, and Paden continues to fend off evil as the new sheriff.
