

THE ST. OLAF COLLEGE DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

PRESENTS IN SCARY ORGAN RECITAL

PIPE SCREAMS

ALL GORY, LOUD, AND HORROR!

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 2019
BOE MEMORIAL CHAPEL • 8:15 P.M.

PROGRAM

PIPE SCREAMS:

ALL GORY, LOUD, AND HORROR!

Toccata in D Minor, BWV 565

James Bobb

Johann Sebastian Bach (1685–1750)

Prelude

from Psycho

Bernard Herrmann (1911–1975)

arr. Sarah Palmer

Sonata No. 1 in D Minor, Op. 42

III. Finale: Allegro assai

Alexandre Guilmant (1837–1911)

Sarah Palmer '22

Scarol: Why Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen

1. Why rest ye merry gentlemen
When ought you be dismayed?
For 'tis the feast of Hallows eve,
And on this night arrayed
A host of spectres, goblins, ghouls,
And corpses long decayed
Bring tidings of horror and fright, horror and fright!
Bring tidings of horror and fright.

2. The squawks and squeals of newts and eels
And witches eb'ny cats
The hoots of owls and frightening scowls
Of shrieking flutt'ring bats
All swarm about and make us shout,
And, with the squeaking rats
Bring tidings of horror and fright, horror and fright!
Bring tidings of horror and fright.

3. So, lest we be surrounded
By frightening scary things,
Bright masks and clothes and pumpkin bows,
All costumes now we bring
To scare them off. For hist! Beware!
Tonight of what we sing:
"O tidings of horror and fright, horror and fright!
O tidings of horror and fight!"

Fugue

Johann Caspar Ferdinand Fischer (1656–1746)
Evan Schlicht '23

Wer Nur den Lieben Gott, BWV 642

Oliver Steissberg '23

Johann Sebastian Bach

Prelude and Fugue in C Minor, BWV 549

Katherine Gunn '23
Abbey Kelley-Lanser '23

Johann Sebastian Bach

Praeludium in E Minor

Nicolaus Bruhns (1665–1697)
Jonathan Thomas Madden '20

Scarol: Joy to the world

1. Joy to the world, it's Halloween
The night of fright has come!
This is time of the we wait.
We really hope he won't be late.
The Great Pumpkin will come,
The Great Pumpkin will come,
The Great, the Great Pumpkin will come.

2. He rules the world, on Hallow's Eve.
He's coming here tonight.
He'll rise above all other gourds
As we sing out in glorious chords.
Oh we will have such fun,
Oh we will have such fun,
Oh we, oh we will have such fun.

Chant héroïque

Jean Langlais (1907–1991)
Margaret Snyder '22

Introduktion and Passacaglia in D

Max Reger (1873–1916)
Samuel Long '21

Hommage à Frescobaldi

VIII. Epilogue

Jean Langlais
Michael Terry Caraher '20

Scarol: Spooky Night

1. Spooky night, Halloween night,
All is cold, nothing's right.
Round yon pumpkin's glowing display,
Singing songs to scare you away.
Hope you keep your head.
Hope you don't end up dead.

2. Spooky night, Halloween night,
Mortals quake in such fright
When they witness the ghosts of dead men,
Hear the cackles of Headless Horsemen.
Hope you keep your head.
Hope you don't end up dead.

3. Spooky night, Halloween night,
Goblins green, ghosts all white,
Vampires craving the taste of your blood,
Zombies chase you all covered in mud.
Hope you keep your head.
Hope you don't end up dead.

Ride of the Valkyries

Richard Wagner (1813–1883)
Dr. Catherine Rodland, '87 and Brian Carson