BIOGRAPHIES

Dr. Kaitlin Bove is director of bands and an assistant professor of music at Diablo Valley College in Pleasant Hill, California. In addition, she serves as artistic director of the Diablo Wind Symphony, a youth wind ensemble within the Blue Devils Performing Arts organization. Prior to these appointments, she held the title of director of instrumental music at Pierce College in Puyallup, Washington where she taught ensemble, music theory, and elective music courses. Kaitlin earned a doctorate of musical arts in wind conducting from University of Kentucky where she was a student of Cody Birdwell, a teaching assistant, and premiered her wind transcription of Caroline Shaw's Pulitzer Prize-winning Partita for 8 Voices in 2019. Dr. Bove is from Lafayette, California and earned her bachelor and master of music degrees in education from the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California where she studied with Eric Hammer. Prior to teaching in higher ed, she instructed instrumental music at the secondary level in Payson, Utah. In this setting, she taught courses in band, orchestra, marching band, jazz ensemble, AP music theory, guitar, folk music, musical theater, and mariachi. Kaitlin is founder of the And We Were Heard initiative which matches underrepresented composers of wind band literature with volunteer ensembles in order to generate quality recordings of the music of diverse compositional voices. In the vein of this philosophy, Dr. Bove maintains a high commitment to commissioning and performing works by both living and underrepresented composers. She is also co-founder of Girls Who Conduct, a mentorship program that supports gender parity on the conducting podium.

Since the splash of his Fantasia in G almost 40 years ago, Dr. Timothy Mahr's compositions have been performed worldwide, recorded, and broadcast. The first recipient of a commission from the American Bandmasters Association Commissioning Project, Mahr has composed works for the Music Educators National Conference, the United States Air Force Band, the American School Band Directors Association, and the Kappa Kappa Psi/Tau Beta Sigma National Intercollegiate Band. He received the 1991 ABA/Ostwald Award for his work The Soaring Hawk. A professor of music at St. Olaf College, Dr. Timothy Mahr conducts the St. Olaf Band, recipient of The American Prize 2021 in the small college/ university band division. Additionally, he has led the Minnesota Symphonic Winds for over 20 years, a proud recipient of the Sudler Silver Scroll Award for community bands from the John Philip Sousa Foundation.

Dr. Michael Buck currently serves as director of the Norseman Band at St. Olaf College and is the Minnesota Music Education Specialist for Professional Development and Resources at the Perpich Center for Arts Education. Previously, Dr. Buck held higher education posts at The College of St. Scholastica and Augsburg University. Prior to entering higher education, Dr. Buck served over 20 years as a K-12 instrumental music educator in Minnesota and in two overseas American international schools in the Middle East and South Asia. His specialized areas of interest include assessment/evaluation, teaching/learning pedagogy, and music technology. Dr. Buck has presented peer-reviewed research projects and workshops in local, regional, national, and international settings. His work includes appearances at the International Symposium of Assessment in Music Education (ISAME), the International Society for Music Education/European Association for Music in Schools (ISME/EAS), Near East South Asia Council of Overseas Schools (NESA), the South Asia International Schools Association (SAISA), the College Music Society/Association for Technology in Music Instruction (CMS/ATMI), the Minnesota Music Educators Association (MMEA), the Minnesota Band Directors Association (MBDA), and numerous school districts throughout Minnesota. Dr. Buck holds degrees from The University of Southern Mississippi, VanderCook College of Music, and St. Olaf College in music education and conducting.

Dr. Jenna McBride-Harris enjoys a varied freelance career as a performer and educator in the Twin Cities. As a St. Olaf Band alum, she enjoyed the privilege of touring both Mexico and Norway with the band during her tenure on the Hill. After earning her bachelor of music degree, McBride-Harris moved to Ohio where she earned her master's and doctoral degrees at the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music and The Ohio State University respectively. In Ohio, she was a founding member in several active chamber ensembles, including a horn and harp duo. She held positions as second horn in the Canton and Kentucky Symphony Orchestras and performed regularly with the Cincinnati Pops Orchestra, Dayton Philharmonic, and West Virginia Symphony Orchestra, among others. Since relocating to the Twin Cities, she has enjoyed regular performances with the Minnesota Opera, Minnesota Orchestra, and Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra. Outside of teaching and performing, Jenna enjoys gardening, baking, and the antics of her husband, two cats, and six chickens.
