KAREN CHEREWATUK

Marie M. Meyer Distinguished Professor of English

Karen Cherewatuk earned her B.A. in English and Classics from the State University of New York at Albany and her M.A. and Ph.D. from Cornell University. Since 1986 she has served in the English Department at St. Olaf College and has particularly enjoyed teaching courses in areas of her specialization, medieval literature. Cherewatuk has served as the director of the Enduring Questions program (formerly the Great Conversation) and taught the Global Semester and Literature of the Eastern Caribbean study-abroad programs. In 2002 she won the award from the International Arthurian Society for best article in the field. In 2019 the same society named her as a Noted Female Scholar. In spring 2023, Cherewatuk served as the P.J.C. Field Senior Research Fellow at the Arthurian Centre University of Wales, Bangor.

Cherewatuk believes that studying the past makes us profoundly aware of the present. Working in medieval literature has allowed her to merge her love of poetry and languages with her faith. Teaching these supposedly distant texts allows Cherewatuk and her students to grapple with issues of gender, spirituality, race, colonialism, ethics, and human emotion.

The author of several books on medieval women and Arthurian literature, Cherewatuk is working on a new book titled Grief and Mourning in Malory's 'Morte Darthur'. This project is motivated by the loss of her daughter Helen and her first husband, St. Olaf Professor of English Richard DuRocher. Her project examines loss in light of a recently developed field called “the history of emotions.”

Cherewatuk is the proud mother of Mary Clare DuRocher '16, mother-in-law of Erik Springer '15, and wife of Bob Thacker. Through Thacker, Cherewatuk has inherited an entire extended family that includes seven grandchildren and eight dogs.

Chaucer's “General Prologue” to the Canterbury Tales, lines 1–18

Whan that Aprill with his shoures soote
The droghte of March hath perced to the roote,
And bathed every veyne in swich licour
Of which vertu engendred is the flour;
Whan Zephirus eek with his sweete breeth
Inspired hath in every holt and heeth
The tendre croppes, and the yonge sonne
Hath in the Ram his half cours yronne,
And smale foweles maken melodye,
That slepen al the nyght with open ye
(So priketh hem Nature in hir corages),
Thanne longen folk to goon on pilgrimages,
And palmeres for to seken straunge strondes,
To ferne halwes, kowthe in sondry londes;
And specially from every shires ende
Of Engelond to Caunterbury they wende,
The hooly blisful martir for to seke,
That hem hath holpen whan that they were seeke.

When April with its sweet-smelling showers
Has pierced the drought of March to the root,
And bathed every vein (of the plants) in such liquid
By which power the flower is created;
When the West Wind also with its sweet breath,
In every wood and field has breathed life into
The tender new leaves, and the young sun
Has run half its course in Aries,
And small fowls make melody,
Those that sleep all the night with open eyes
(So Nature incites them in their hearts),
Then folk long to go on pilgrimages,
And professional pilgrims to seek foreign shores,
To distant shrines, known in various lands;
And specially from every shire's end
Of England to Canterbury they travel,
To seek the holy blessed martyr,
Who helped them when they were sick.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The traditional academic procession introduces many of the more formal and significant events at St. Olaf, as it does on most college and university campuses. Leading the faculty procession and seated in the front rows of the faculty are the current holders of distinguished professorships and endowed chairs.

Although the history of wearing distinctive apparel as an indication of scholarship and academic rank dates back to 1321, the practice was not adopted throughout the United States until about 1900. The cap worn almost universally in academic processions is the Oxford cap, better known as the mortarboard. It is always black. A different style, called the Cambridge cap, resembles a large beret.

The use of a dark robe in academic processions is thought to have arisen from the clerical practice of wearing a cape or mantle in religious processions in the 12th and 13th centuries when universities arose from cathedral schools.

Traditionally, gowns are also black. However, a number of universities have adopted alternate gowns that use their traditional school colors, such as crimson for Harvard, blue for Yale, maroon for Chicago, and orange hashmarks and lining for Princeton.

The academic hoods, worn around the neck and down the back of the gown, are lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The binding or edging of the hood is usually distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains, as follows: economics, copper; education, light blue; fine arts, brown; humanities, white; law, purple; library science, lemon; medicine, green; music, pink; nursing, apricot; philosophy, dark blue; physical education, sage green; science, golden yellow; social science, cream; social work, citron; speech, silver gray; and theology, scarlet.

IN EXPLANATION

The general honors list includes all full-time students who have a cumulative grade point average, through Interim, of cum laude (3.60) or above.

For further information on GPA requirements, visit the St. Olaf Registrar's website at stolaf.edu/offices/registrar.

The St. Olaf scholarships and awards that are listed are provided in large measure by specially designated gifts to the college.

THE RECEPTION

All students, visiting parents, donors of scholarships and awards, and faculty and staff are invited to a reception in the Crossroads of Buntrock Commons immediately following the Honors Day convocation.

THANK YOU!

Today, we celebrate the academic accomplishments of Oles and the people who helped them succeed.

Over the years, donors have generously endowed 829 scholarship funds, paving the way for thousands of students to achieve academic success at St. Olaf. During the 2022–23 academic year, endowed scholarships helped 961 students get a St. Olaf education. These students received a combined $8,802,979 in scholarship support. Thank you!
