

THE ST. OLAF COLLEGE DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

PRESENTS IN SCARY ORGAN RECITAL

PIPE SCREAMS

ALL GORY, LOUD, AND HORROR!

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 2022
BOE MEMORIAL CHAPEL • 7 P.M.

PROGRAM

Tocatta in D Minor, BWV 565 Johann Sebastian Bach (1685–1750)
Catherine Rodland '87

Tocatta in E Minor Johann Pachelbel (1653–1706)
Michael Oaks '26

Prelude and Fugue in A Minor, BWV 559 Johann Sebastian Bach
Faiz Wareh '27

Tocatta Eugène Gigout (1844–1925)
Jeremiah Knudson '26

SCAROL – Joy to the World

Animal Parade Iain Farrington (1873–1916)
Hippopotamus
Barrel Organ Monkey
Henry Rye '26

Tocatta (Suite Gothique) Léon Boëhlmann (1862–1897)
Parker Barrette '24

Chant Héroïque Jean Langlais (1907–1991)
Lucas Jindra '24

SCAROL – Why Rest Ye Merry Gentlefolk

Epilogue Jean Langlais
Karen Olson

Final (Symphony VIII) Charles Marie Widor (1844–1937)
Aaron Looney '24

Stars and Stripes Forever John Phillip Sousa (1854–1932)
arr. by Biggs
James Bobb

SCAROL – Spooky Night

Danse Macabre Camille Saint-Saens (1835–1883)

Ride of the Valkyries Richard Wagner (1813–1883)
arr. Dickinson/Lockwood
Catherine Rodland '87 and Brian Carson

Scarols

Joy to the World

Joy to the world! It's Halloween.
The night of fright is here.
The organ's roar
Will wake the dead.
And we will make you fear,
You won't have any cheer.
You'll fear, you'll fear the sounds you hear.
Fear rules the world on Hallow's Eve.
We hope you're filled with dread.
Though you might not
In beasts believe,
Please check beneath your bed,
The monsters want you dead.
It's you, it's you they want to shred.

Why Rest Ye Merry Gentlefolk?

Why rest ye merry gentlefolk
When ought you be dismayed?
For 'tis the feast of Hallows' Eve,
And on this night arrayed
A host of spectres, goblins, ghouls,
And corpses long decayed
Bring tidings of horror and fright, horror and fright!
Bring tidings of horror and fright.
The squawks and squeals of newts and eels
And witches' eb'ny cats
The hoots of owls and frightening scowls
Of shrieking flutt'ring bats
All swarm about and make us shout,
And with the squeaking rats
Bring tidings of horror and fright, horror and fright!
Bring tidings of horror and fright.

So, lest we be surrounded
By frightening, scary things,
Bright masks and clothes and pumpkin bows,
All costumes now we bring
To scare them off. For hist! Beware!
Tonight of what we sing:
“O tidings of horror and fright, horror and fright!
O tidings of horror and fight!”

Spooky Night

Spooky night, Halloween night,
All is cold, nothing's right.
Round yon pumpkin's glowing display,
Singing songs to scare you away.
Hope you keep your head.
Hope you don't end up dead.

Spooky night, Halloween night,
Mortals quake in such fright
When they witness the ghosts of dead men,
Hear the cackles of Headless Horsemen.
Hope you keep your head.
Hope you don't end up dead.

Spooky night, Halloween night,
Goblins green, ghosts all white,
Vampires craving the taste of your blood,
Zombies chase you all covered in mud.
Hope you keep your head.
Hope you don't end up dead.